MYSTERY PRIZE

John Uwland – donated back to the club in a kind gesture and eventually won by Don Gee!!

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE ROUND

- * Neil Morcomb – Breakfast saga continues – 4 cans according to our fearless reporter.
- * Neil again – Owes the raffle 70 cents.
- * Stake again operating at full pitch on the raffle $4.00 each or three for $2.00 – Someone bought one!!
- * Brendan back to normal – all the trophies and cards etc, arrived intact, and on time – excellent work.
- * Two incorrect score cards – 1st and 2nd. Stake said "I've won again!!"
- * Are all the subs paid – I think so !!
- * The un-named cricket bat being gently handed over to a golfer!! Some manufacturers will obviously sponsor any "driver of the ball".
- * 35 members turned up – 36 expected – spy is checking.
- * Steve Cromb attempting a diving catch in the covers. A quick dash to the ball which had rebounded from the usual tree and was attempting to land about 20 metres behind him – a clever shot!!
- * John Uwland smashing the mashie on hire from the Pro Shop – It just caved in under the extreme pressure.

* Brett Langley – Micks guest from Sydney must win the environmental award.

Scene – 10th tee
Props – Buggy/golfers/tee/1 pie/etc
Setting – Put the pie on the buggy
Action – Move to the tee and appear to be playing golf
Enter – 1 crow/black/huge beak
Result – 1 "pieless" golfer

* The crow swooped in from the "sun" and grabbed the pie and with a loud AAAAAARK!! (Mimicked by Brett) disappeared into the foliage.

Next round – EAGLE RIDGE 10.15 start

STOP PRESS

Red biro is on the mend and looking forward to returning for Eagle Ridge. Perhaps he may even turn up today and assist the editor around the course as spy is in Coolangatta for the Annual Espionage Convention.
